U. S. and Red Chinese Ambassadorial Talks Open

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS FACING CHALLENGE FROM LITTLE ROCK OFFICIALS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A few spectators gathered near Central High School in Little Rock today shortly before the hour when the school normally would have opened. Police radio cars began circling the grounds.

Automobiles carrying both whites and Negroes cruised slowly in front of the school.

There were no disturbances. The school, scene of rioting that brought paratroops to Little Rock last year, remained closed on orders of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

A group of white girls, in gymnasium uniforms, went into the school. They told reporters they were not going to attend classes. They are drum majorettes, they said, practicing for appearances at the football games.

Special armed guards, employed by the School Board, were on duty at the school. U. S. marshals, also in cars, appeared from time to time but stayed in cars.

State troopers, also armed, came on duty at Faubus' official residence.

Clergymen In Virginia Enter Dispute

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The closed doors of Warren County High School symbolized today the intensity of Virginia's battle to prevent race mixing in the public schools.

Under the state's anti-integration laws, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. took control of the county's only high school, a white facility.

And 1,045 students looked for ways to keep occupied until the crisis is resolved.

Other localities—chief among them Charlottesville and Arlington—face possible school closings this week.

At the same time, the broad outlines of a new round of litigation intended to put off integration are being sketched.

Swift Action Is Urged in Deposing President Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Court Monitor Godfrey P. Schmidt called today for swift action to depose James R. Hoffa as president of the scandal-battered Teamsters Union.

Schmidt spoke out as Hoffa was preparing to go before the Senate Rackets Committee for two more days of questioning.

The three-man board of monitors on which Schmidt serves planned to meet all week to consider corruption charges the committee has leveled at Hoffa and his lieutenants, and to decide what to do about it.

"I do have the idea of moving to oust Hoffa," Schmidt told a reporter. "He ought to stand trial in ouster proceedings."

Schmidt is a New York lawyer who handled a court suit last year which sought to bar Hoffa from taking office as union president.

Home Extension Assistant Takes Up Work in Warren

Miss Elizabeth Anne Prough, Sykesville, Md., has been named assistant extension home economist for Warren county and took up her duties here today after a week's training conference at Pennsylvania State University.

Miss Prough is a graduate of Penn State, where she received her bachelor of science degree in home economics in June. During the summer of 1957, she was employed by the University of Maryland Agricultural Service and assisted with the 4-H Club program. In previous summers, she worked at the Montrose School for Girls, and, in 1954, was a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Prough, White Rock road, Sykesville, Md.

In Warren county, Miss Prough will be associated with

ELIZABETH ANNE PROUGH
Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, home economist; O. C. Tritt and Bernard Wingert, county agents, whose offices are in the courthouse annex.

Algerians Fail in Attempt On Life of French Minister

By GEORGE McARTHUR
PARIS (AP)—Algerian assassins tried to kill French information Minister Jacques Soustelle in the heart of Paris today, but missed him.

Soustelle, a former governor general of Algeria, was cut above the eyes and under his chin by glass shattered in bursts of gunfire at his car. One bullet whizzed through his coat as he dived to the floor.

In the blistering gunfight that followed, one Algerian was killed and another wounded. Stray bullets killed a French subway worker and wounded three more. The shooting occurred near the Arc de Triomphe as American tourists and French passers-by raced for cover.

Next to Premier de Gaulle himself, Soustelle is the biggest government figure the Algerian nationalists could attack in France to underscore their determination to win independence for that vast North African territory. Soustelle sits at De Gaulle's right hand in the French Cabinet and is his chief propagandist.

Soustelle, at a news conference after the shooting, blamed the attack on the Algerian Na-

Atlanta, Georgia Scene of Fatal Race Disturbance

ATLANTA (AP)—A Negro was shot and killed by a policeman, shots were fired at one trolley and another was stoned during a series of weekend disturbances in Atlanta's northwest section.

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins took personal direction of the probe Sunday night and detectives were told to stay out of the Negro residential area except on necessary police business.

Shortly after the Saturday night disturbance, T. B. Woods said a crowd in the same general area threw rocks at his trolley, smashing several windows. Sunday H. F. Todd said he heard three shots and that a bullet punctured the trolley windshield inches from his head.

In both instances the trolleys sped away from the scene. No passengers were reported injured.

Police said Joseph Franklin Jeter Sr. was shot when a large crowd of Negroes stormed a police car in an unsuccessful attempt to take a prisoner from police custody. No charges were made against Patrolman W. O. Dempsey, who fired the fatal shot.

Patrolman N. C. Oliver said he arrested Joseph Franklin Jeter Jr., 19, and was trying to get him into a patrol car when he was knocked down by the youth's father. He said Dempsey came to his assistance and fired one shot.

Score of Children Hurt in Bus Crash

JEANNETTE, (AP)—A school bus and a truck collided today and 20 children were taken to hospitals for examination. At least eight children and the bus driver were admitted with injuries.

The bus was carrying pupils to the Lincoln Heights Elementary School of Hempfield Twp. near this Westmoreland County town. Fourteen pupils were taken to the Westmoreland County Hospital at Greensburg. Three were admitted. They are Cindy Rodgers, 11, Jennifer Loughner, 10, and Larry Catalano, 10.

Next to Premier de Gaulle himself, Soustelle is the biggest government figure the Algerian nationalists could attack in France to underscore their determination to win independence for that vast North African territory. President Holds Conference With G.O.P. Leaders

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today holds his first formal political conference since the Republicans took a trouncing in the Maine elections a week ago.

The meeting is with Rhode Island Republican candidates for Congress and state offices, and other state party leaders.

Democratic victories in Maine were a staggering blow to Republican hopes for capture of control of Congress.

Today's meeting gave Eisenhower an opportunity to tell something of his plans for participation in the fall campaign in an effort to stem the Maine tide.

There was no advance indication the conference would deal with the demands of many Republican candidates that Eisenhower get rid of Sherman Adams, his chief White House aide.

The demands are based on contentions that Adams, under intense new fire because of his relations with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, has become a major political liability.

Eisenhower has remained silent about Adams since the party setback in Maine, where the Goldfine case was an undertone issue. In June the President said Adams had been imprudent but that nevertheless "I need him" to stay on in the White House.

RIOTERS SENTENCED
LONDON (AP)—A British judge today cracked down on racial rioting by sending nine youths to jail for four years each for attacks on Negroes.

The nine, all between 17 and 20, went through the Notting Hill area Aug. 24 armed with iron bars, table legs and a knife beating up Negroes. It was the beginning of London's race riots.

MORE U. S. FORCES ARE MOVING OUT

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Two more U. S. Marine battalions are leaving Lebanon and are going home.

The U. S. Navy announced most of the 2,012 men of the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 8th Marine Regiment would go on shipboard today. Working parties began loading equipment Sunday.

Their departure will leave one Marine battalion of about 1,600 men and 3,000 Army men in Lebanon as the rearguard of a force that began landing here July 15.

One Marine battalion, withdrawn in August on the eve of an emergency U. N. General Assembly session on the Middle East, remained with the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

But a Navy spokesman said the 1st and 2nd battalions will be sent back to the United States. They are being pulled out on the eve of the regular U. N. General Assembly session in New York.

Nearly 15,000 Marines and soldiers were ordered here at the request of President Camille Chamoun, who charged that the United Arab Republic was endangering Lebanon's independence.

The emergency U. N. session instructed Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to make practical arrangements to facilitate withdrawal of the troops. He has announced no agreement by Arab countries on stationing a U. N. police force, observer force or representatives in the Middle East to watch out for infiltration and subversion.

But it is generally expected that Lebanon's President-elect Fuad Chehab will ask the American troops to leave soon after he takes office Sept. 24.

Conditions have been gradually returning to normal since Chehab's election. Rebel leaders announced that starting today stores in the business section of Beirut could stay open until 1 p. m. without danger of being bombed for violating a rebel strike order. The rebels called the strike May 10, but eased up a week ago by allowing stores to open up until 11 a. m.

The Navy announced Machinis Mate 3.C. Joseph A. Domotta of Philadelphia was slightly wounded Saturday night by a bullet while he was watching a movie aboard a destroyer 1,000 yards off Beirut.

Cmdr. Robert Pond of San Francisco said he believed a sniper fired the shot. It was the third such casualty among American forces here.

Fire Started by Tots Claims Life of Boy

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A fire which police said was started by two children playing with matches claimed the life of their nine-year-old brother Sunday.

Walter Johnson Jr. perished in the blaze which swept an apartment over the Zion United Holy Church of America. Firemen were unaware he was in the building.

Four other Johnson children—aged two, three, four and five—ran from the building. Police said the father was at work and the mother was visiting a neighbor.

Detective Mario Bagnoni said two of the children told him they had been playing with matches.

DeGaulle Has Visit With German Leader

COLOMBEY LES DEUX EG-LISES, France, (AP)—"Frenchmen and Germans should live happily together and work side by side," French Premier de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Adenauer declared after a six-hour talk in this village Sunday.

Their joint communiqué said armed conflict between the two nations, who have fought each other in three great wars since 1870, "should be finished forever."

The 82-year-old Chancellor came here to De Gaulle's home for their first meeting.

Attorneys Start Divorce Plans for Eddie and Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attorneys for Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds are due to get together this week to work out a divorce that will end the 1955 marriage of the film couple.

And with the lawyers entering the picture, the barrage of statements that marked the breakup of the marriage last week summed to silence.

Fisher withdrew to an undisclosed hideaway to concentrate on his television show, which starts Sept. 30. Debbie spent a quiet day with her two children, Elizabeth Taylor, whose dates with Fisher apparently touched off the marital explosion, stayed out of sight at her agent's home.

A friend of Fisher's said the 30-year-old singer will not contest Debbie's divorce action so that a messy trial can be avoided.

The quieting of the situation left one mystery still unsolved. The Chester (Pa.) Times published a column Friday under Fisher's byline in which he said he still loved Debbie and hoped their marriage could be saved. But Fisher denied writing it.

The newspaper's managing editor, Bud Magnin, said the article was accompanied by a note from Fisher, signed, "Eddie." Fisher has been writing a column for the paper since July.

But the singer, through a publicity man, said he didn't write it and that the article did not express his feelings.

Highways Dep't Fraud Trial Is Resumed Today

HARRISBURG (AP)—A former Chester County highways superintendent was called back to Dauphin County Court today for continuation of his trial on charges of defrauding the State Highways Department in cinder contracts.

As the trial continued after a weekend recess there were indications Victor Prep, a twice-convicted cinders contractor, would take the stand as a prosecution witness.

Charged with conspiring with Prep to defraud the highways agency in sales of cinders in Chester County is Frank S. Jamieson, former highways superintendent in that area.

Judge Homer L. Kreider recessed the trial after a special session Saturday in which two men denied they ever signed cinder delivery slips which bear signatures corresponding to their names.

The signature denials were made Saturday by Alvin Ross, West Chester, and William Doyle, Branchdale.

Ross, a highways department worker, and Doyle, an employee of a cinder supplying firm, were shown dozens of receipts for cinders which bore signatures corresponding to their names.

Both denied they had ever signed the slips. The slips amounted to certification cinders were delivered that the prosecution claims were not.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE

Thirty-six Republicans and 19 Democrats registered Friday at the Court House registration office. A non-partisan also signed up. Saturday there were 4 Republicans and 5 Democrats added to the rolls. Office will stay open until 9 o'clock tonight to handle last minute registrants who wish to enlist their vote in the fall general election.

REPRESENTATIVES MEET IN WARSAW TO DISCUSS THE FAR EASTERN CRISIS

By STANLEY JOHNSON
WARSAW, Poland (AP)—U. S. and Chinese Communist representatives sat down in a Polish palace today to begin talks on the Far Eastern crisis.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan braved a barrage of reporters and photographers as they arrived at Mysliwiecki Palace, 18th-century hunting lodge of the kings of Poland.

The negotiators said they would discuss the crisis in the Far East, as the world had assumed they would, but top sources were silent on details of any proposals to be put forward.

It is assumed in diplomatic circles here that if the talks show any sign of progress they will move to a higher level for the definite stages.

The conference here was announced as a resumption of U. S.-Red China discussions held in Geneva for 2 1/2 years, but broken off last Dec. 12.

The primary emphasis, however, was believed to lie on the Nationalist-held offshore islands in Formosa Strait and U. S. demands for a renunciation of force by Red China.

Appeals for resuming the Geneva talks were made by both the United States and the Peiping government shortly after the Communists began bombarding Quemoy right off the mainland on Aug. 23.

U. S. sources here maintain the parleys are only a resumption of the Geneva talks. President Eisenhower has been pressing for negotiations aimed primarily at working out a ceasefire.

Secretary of State Dulles said in Washington Sunday night that the Communists agreed to resume the talks in the interests of peace and "I hope peace will come out of them."

But the talks could run into trouble if the Communists insisted on broadening them to include possible U. S. recognition of Red China membership in the United Nations, two sources of friction that may lie behind the Formosa Strait crisis.

When Wang returned from Peiping last Friday with instructions on the talks, he repeated Chinese Communist chief Mao Tse-tung's statement: "If both sides show good will the talks may achieve satisfactory results."

The Warsaw diplomatic corps saw the talks as the start of an effort to stabilize the Far Eastern situation by giving both sides a chance to save face.

If the two ambassadors make any proposals, the speculation was that the talks might move on to higher levels.

End Appears Near for Long-Haul Truck Tieup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The end appears near for a five-week tieup in long-haul Western trucking which involved 30,000 Teamsters Union members and 1,200 firms.

Nine striking Teamsters locals in California's central area and San Joaquin Valley, and units in Los Angeles and Denver, Colo., Sunday approved a master agreement aimed at ending the dispute. The vote count was not available.

Trucking operations in 11 Western states affected are expected to resume by Wednesday or Thursday.

Votes were to be counted today and Tuesday in Seattle, Albuquerque and Salt Lake City.

Largest Deficit in History Of State Studied by Officials

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania fiscal officers today considered the possibility of emergency tax legislation to offset the worst general fund deficit in the Commonwealth's history—more than $7 million dollars.

John Ferguson, state budget secretary, said over the weekend Pennsylvania's financial problems have been complicated by "the national recession, which has drastically curtailed the volume of business and reduced state revenue derived from taxes."

A statement issued over the signatures of Gov. Leader, Treasurer Robert F. Kent and Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith, indicated the General Assembly may have to enact special emergency tax measures when it convenes in January.

The statement was circulated by the three state officials to banks and investment houses on the upcoming sale of 75 million dollars in tax anticipation notes, to be sold Sept. 23.

Such notes are issued to carry the state through periods of low collections.

Nationalists With Air Cover Run Blockade

BULLETIN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist cargo planes flew the supply run to Little Quemoy again today. The Defense Ministry said the airdrop was successful. The announcement gave no other details.

Presumably the flight, like the successful one Sunday, was escorted by U. S. and Nationalist fighter squadrons. Little Quemoy, two miles west of Quemoy, is within easy range of Red jet fighters and probably the anti-aircraft guns bristling on Red China's mainland coast.

Whether the U. S. planes were flying in past the three-mile sea limit was not disclosed. U. S. 7th Fleet ships guarding Nationalist sea convoys have remained outside it. As the Nationalist planes flew the new run, a convoy of Nationalist vessels was assembling in the Pescadores for another trip into the Red artillery curtain around the Nationalist offshore islands.

The Pescadores are about midway between Formosa and Quemoy.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Heartened by their first success in piercing the Communist artillery curtain around Quemoy, the Chinese Nationalists assembled another convoy today to supply the besieged island fortress.

The Nationalists announced the first sizable amounts of supplies in a week got through to the Quemoy islands Sunday by sea and air with U. S. escorts.

U. S. and Nationalist spokesmen announced American Air Force planes flew protective cover.

Nationalist transports also parachuted supplies to the island complex nesting against the mainland for the first time since the (Turn to Page Seven)

Agreement Said To Be Near in Auto Industry

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., said today "events of the past few days encourage us to believe we can reach an agreement that will be economically sound and fair" with the walkout-threatening United Auto Workers Union.

Ford did not speculate whether settlement would come before Wednesday's 10 a. m. strike deadline.

He expressed himself as his company prepared to present later today a new contract offer it hoped would avert a UAW walk-out that could idle an estimated 140,000 Ford employees.

Northern Area Joint Board Plans For New Type Tests Are Revealed by U. S.

One of the principal topics brought before Northern Area Joint School Board at its September session was the matter of enrollment, the 1958-59 term starting with 1,294 students, an increase of 108 over last year. Of these 796 are elementary pupils, where the largest increase came in first graders.

In view of the State Department's policy of smaller first grade classes, where there are no kindergartens, it was noted additional building space must be provided before any further increase can be accommodated.

Personnel Chairman Floyd Marsh presented the contract for Lucian Levrio, commercial teacher, presented 12 names for approval as substitute teachers, and noted every teaching position in the system is filled at the start of the new term.

The cafeteria report showed 48,841 lunches served last year, with a deficit of $1,186, but it is hoped this may be remedied with a reduction in employee hours and an increase from 27 to 30 cents for lunch tickets.

In the supervising principal's report was mention of the fine showing made by two vocational agriculture students, Daniel Johnson and Lawrence Childs, at the Meadville Dairy Show and permission was given to take their heifers to the State Junior Dairy Show in Harrisburg Wednesday if their instructor, Joseph Soper, deems it advisable.

Norge Luvison, administrative assistant, reported on maintenance and improvement projects, including damage and sewage facilities, boiler replacement at Sugar Grove, a gas meter house at the high school, and appraisal of all school facilities.

Considerable time was devoted to an extensive report given by Emerson Spicer, transportation chairman, including the detour situation brought about by work on Route 957, from the high school to Russell. It was pointed out a situation which prohibits normal approach from either side of the Eisenhower building might cost an additional $800 per month for bus travel, but the belief was expressed that good work weather will bring early relief. A new one-year contract was approved for LaVerne and Gail Decker to transport athletic teams and practice groups.

Among other reports called for by President Travers Stohlberg was that of Secretary Hazel Kay's, showing current bills in the amount of $1,043.12 for elementary schools and $3,645.53 for secondary. The adult education program, with registrations from 7:00 to 9:00 tonight, was approved.

The supervising principal was authorized to attend the annual Education Congress in Harrisburg October 1-2; John Neese, driver education instructor, was designated to handle athletic receipts during the season; other matters dealing with parking and loading of buses, accommodation of next year's anticipated student body were referred to their proper committees for further study.

Next regularly scheduled meeting of the board will be October 8.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer

GENEVA (AP)—The United States this fall will conduct tests aimed at developing atom-powered space rockets and airplanes, an American scientist reported today.

The tests will be made with small atomic reactors which hold promise of being fitted into rockets and planes, said Dr. H. L. Reynolds of the University of California.

Small reactors have been developed with uranium cores less than a foot in diameter. Dr. Reynolds told the atoms-for-peace conference.

The next step is to generate more power from them, which could, for example, heat hydrogen or other gases to supply the thrust for a rocket.

Tests of this nature are scheduled in Nevada this fall on a reactor developed at the Los Alamos N.M., scientific laboratory. Other tests will be made on a reactor developed at the radiation laboratory at Livermore, Calif., he said.

Dr. Reynolds indicated a practical power plant is some time off. He said the present reactors are not prototypes.

The studies are in connection with atomic plants for rockets, ram-jet engines which could power airplanes, and for ships, he added.

The smallest reactor developed in this work, at Livermore, is a four-foot cube. For use in a rocket, the reactor would have to be cylindrical.

A reflector around the core reflects neutrons coming from the splitting atoms. This permits reducing the critical mass of enriched uranium used and raises the power distribution at the edges of the reactor. The uranium heart which produces heat weighs 132 pounds.

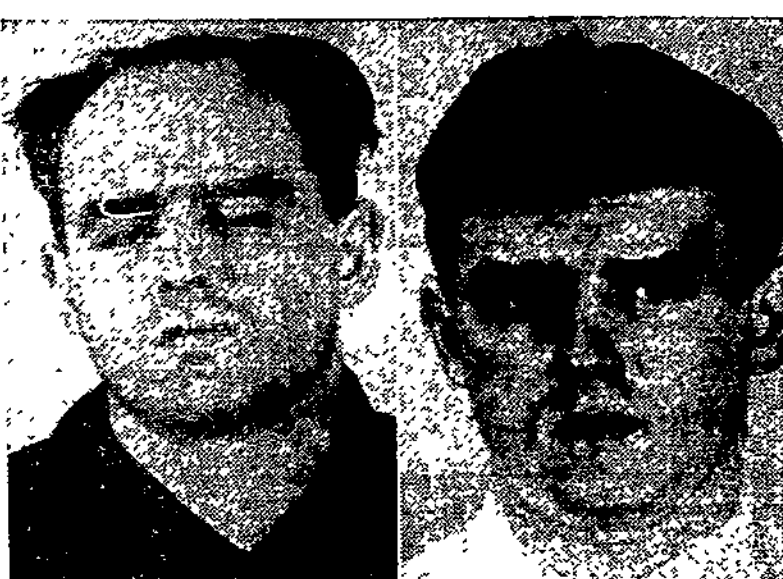

Dr. Reynolds said a next step is to design reactors which would produce temperatures up to 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Light gases sent through the reactor would become heated, and propelled out the rear of the rocket to provide thrust. The lighter the gas "fuel," the faster the gases move upon heating, to give more thrust per pound of material the rocket has to carry.

The first experiments now declassified, were made to check calculations that small reactors were feasible.

Last week the conference was told that a nuclear-powered experimental airplane engine had operated under full power on the ground for 230 hours in tests at Arco, Idaho.

WANTED BY THE FBI

FRANK LAWRENCE SPRENG, 28, from Akron, Ohio, for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for robbery. Spreng is about five feet ten and weighs 185 to 192. His hair and eyes are brown. Federal agents say Spreng can change his normal appearance (above left) almost magically with the simple addition of a toupee (above right). He uses a number of aliases, including James Heil Frank Lawrence Spreng. CAUTION: Spreng is probably armed and should be considered extremely dangerous. Any person with information concerning this fugitive should notify the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D.C., or the nearest FBI office.

5 Weekend Wrecks Are Investigated

City and state police combined to investigate four accidents Friday, three of them occurring within three and one-half hours in the borough during the afternoon.

Most serious mishap occurred about 1:45 p. m. at the intersection of Fourth avenue and Market street. Police said Ruth L. Lundgren, 35, of Akeley, was proceeding south on Market in the inside lane to make a right turn when she noticed a tractor-trailer swerving in the outside lane, also to make a right turn.

The Lundgren machine had stopped but the back end of the trailer swung in as the truck rounded the turn and crumpled the 1958 Chevrolet against a railroad blinker post. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the car, none to the truck operated by Francis J. Lerow of East Randolph, N. Y.

At 3:40 p. m. Friday Robert A. Ploetz, 37, of North Warren, stopped his eastbound car on Pennsylvania avenue at the Elm street traffic light. John H. Dickey, 42, of RD 1, Warren, stopped behind him. Ploetz, into them when his brakes failed was Raymond C. LaPoint, 58, of 18 Schanz street. His car was not damaged. Dickey had $277 damages, Ploetz, $50.

At 12:10 p. m. Friday, Hiram W. Clark, 86, of 116 Connecticut avenue, pulled from his parking space on the north curb of Second avenue in the 200 Block into the side of a westbound machine operated by Geraldine D. Jones, 23, of 202 Main street. Damages were estimated at $140 to the Jones car, $35 to Clark's.

Troopers were called out about 8:10 p. m. Friday after Sam Merlino, 44, of Erie, told them he was blinded by lights from an oncoming car and had swerved off the road and hit an embankment. Damages were estimated at $50 to the machine. Mishap occurred on Route 6 five miles west of Warren.

Extensive damage was caused about 8:10 p. m. Saturday when a man, later cited for reckless driving, rammed into a parked car on Madison avenue.

Police said Edward T. Reese, 25, of Hemlock street, was proceeding west on Madison avenue when he accidentally struck the rear of a parked car registered to Robert T. Trubie of Clarendon. That car was driven into the back of another parked car operated by William P. Sedoni of 101 Parker street.

Damages were estimated at $500 to the Reese machine, $1,000 to Trubie's, and $40 to Sedoni's.

Retarded Children Meeting on Tuesday

The September meeting of Warren County Association for Retarded Children will be held at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday in the social rooms of Warren County D.A.R.

This will be Meet the Teachers Night, with informal discussion by borough and county special class instructors on objectives and techniques of special education. Mrs. Olga Kyofski, teacher at Jefferson School, will be the discussion leader.

There are now 10 classes in special education serving educable retarded children of Warren county; also one class for the more severely retarded, known as the Child Care Training Center and located at South Street School.

Parents of children in these classes, who are not members of the local chapter, are urged to attend this meeting. It will give them an opportunity to better understand this type of educational program, to meet and talk with other parents, and to study present and future needs of their children.

Sponsor Cancels $64,000 Sunday Night Quiz Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The P. Lorillard Co. has withdrawn as a sponsor of "The $64,000 Challenge," a television quiz show. The program is going off the air.

The cancellation, announced Friday, "does not concern any accusation made against the show," its producer said.

Last week, the Rev. Charles E. Jackson, a Nashville minister, said he was given the answer to a question in advance when he was a contestant.

Entertainment Productions, Inc. producer of the show, has denied his charge.

Steve Carlin, head of Entertainment Productions, said he would continue to seek a sponsor for the program.

Earlier this week, the tobacco company's advertising agency, Lennen & Newell, Inc., reported the sponsor was "greatly disturbed over the unfavorable publicity" received by the show when the minister leveled his charge.

Cancellation of another TV quiz, the now-defunct "Datto," touched off an investigation of quiz shows by the Manhattan district attorney's office.

"Datto" was dropped with a minimum of explanation by the Colgate-Palmolive Co. and by NBC and CBS, the two networks carrying the program.

A standby contestant charged the show was rigged.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Friday he is laying all the evidence gathered in his investigation before a grand jury.

Hogan said he will ask a Manhattan general sessions judge next Wednesday to impanel a third September grand jury to determine "whether the crime of conspiracy or other crime have been committed."

He added: "It is not a fair assumption that we have concluded that there has been wrongdoing."

THE FOOTBALL FAN

Gee, fellows—Ma's the smartest one—
It seems she's almost always right;
Pa and I, we hate to admit it,
So we strive against her with all our might.

This one time I remember in particular,
We were going to the football game;
And Ma says, "Fellows, dress good and warm,
Or tomorrow you'll feel mighty lame."

But, you know Dads and kids—they scoff,
Why the sun was shining high—
The sky was blue as a robin egg,
Wear sweaters . . . not us guys.

At game time we piled in our old jalopy—
And were off down the dusty road;
At every house on the block we stopped,
And soon had a noisy load.

We were almost the first ones there,
To sit on the forty yard line;
'Cause if Ma can't see both ends of the field,
She has a horrible time.

Now, I don't mean that—
'Cause Ma has the time of her life;
Whichever team wins—win, lose or draw,
It always just turns out all right.

We climb way up high to see every play,
But Ma stops with a cry of dismay;
"You know I get dizzy so far off the ground
And starts to tremble and sway.

So, with a plop she sits down,
About four seats from the ground;
And wraps herself up snug and warm,
While Dad and I sit there and frown.

We mourn for the days of the past,
When woman's place was at home;
Getting dinner and such,
—Let the men and kids wander alone.

The whistle blows—the game begins,
We sit there tense and still;
When suddenly a cry rings loud,
"Get going guys, or we'll put someone who will."

Dad and I looked at Ma aghast,
She was yelling very loud;
But the people all loved it,
She was the leader of the crowd.

She became the typical football fan,
Ate hotdogs, popcorn—drank pop;
The sun went down and a wind came up,
I started shivering and couldn't stop.

"Make a home run," Ma loudly yells,
I look disgustingly at Dad;
But he was busily watching the game,
So I guess He wasn't mad.

She was visiting with Mrs. Murphy,
Who was sitting yards away;
You would think they hardly ever met,
But they do—once every day.

There are just some things you cannot take,
But these I took in my stride;
Then she stood up and shouted, "BEAT JAMES O'!"
Why fellows, I almost died.

Now mothers are always right I know,
But this I couldn't take;
"Good grief, Ma, please sit down,
We're playing Sandy Lake."

But still, it turned out she was right,
Dad says it's always so;
The wind got cold and colder,
Then it rained and turned to snow.

I guess even the Weatherman,
Is on a Mother's side;
The Doc put Dad and me to bed,
In fact we almost died.

NEW YORK (AP)—Composer Richard Adler would have more peace these days if absolutely everybody in the country would understand why he refused to kill a girl named Meg.

Meg is one of the principal characters in Lousa May Alcott's "Little Women," which will be presented on CBS-TV Oct. 16 as a one-hour special television musical written by Adler.

At the conclusion of "Little Women," published in 1868, Meg was alive at the age of 11. The book became so popular—one of the persistent best-sellers of its age—that Miss Alcott wrote a sequel entitled "Good Wives." In the sequel Meg dies at the age of 19. Modern publishers have combined the two books in one volume entitled "Little Women." Thus, all modern readers believe that Meg dies in "Little Women."

Well, a couple of months ago Adler casually remarked to a columnist that Meg lives in his TV version of "Little Women" and the columnist casually reported the fact. Ever since, people have been hounding Adler and demanding, who does he think he is to be tampering with the "classics?"

Who is he? First of all, he's one of the country's leading popular composers who, with the late Jerry Ross, composed the scores for

"Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees" among other hit tunes. And is he tampering with the "classics?" Definitely not. He goes about these days armed with a modern one volume edition of Miss Alcott's two works to prove he isn't tampering.

"I decided to risk getting into television," Adler says, "after I'd studied it for a long time and gotten a clue as to which way I wanted to go in it. I've found that television absorbs me when its focus is small and cameo-like on a limited number of characters and limited situations."

"This is the exact opposite of the stage. In writing for the Broadway stage you use a broad canvas and a broad brush in oils. To follow the same analogy, writing for television is most effective when you use water colors in a small frame."

"There's no second team in writing," he said. "It's not like football where you send in the second team to do a job. A writer is always making a first-string effort or else he's not a writer."

"The only traditional American theater we have is musical comedy. So why shouldn't we have original musical comedy on television? Adapting a Broadway show to television is not my notion of true television."

Stiff Sentences for Fraudulents Continue

An announced crackdown on bad check passers in Warren County continued Friday afternoon when Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., handed down a six to 12 months sentence in Allegheny Workhouse for a man who had passed a worthless $21 check August 11.

On his way south for the winter is Donald D. Peising, 32, of Salt Lake City, Utah. He attempted to get away with the maneuver at Castle Dinor.

Earlier in Quarter Sessions court, Judge Flick had handed down a six-month sentence in the local jail for a man who had obtained money by fraudulent pretense. As court opened, District Attorney Samuel F. Bonvita announced that a prison sentence would be asked for all those attempting to secure money or goods by fraudulent means. Peising was charged with forgery.

The case of a woman who passed approximately $300 in worthless checks to secure fall clothing for her schoolbound youngsters was continued, pending arrival of her complete record from the FBI.

In other cases to be heard in pleas court Friday afternoon, Thad Wonderting, Jr., of 424 Chestnut street, drew 15 days in the local jail for driving during a period of license suspension. He will also be assessed court costs.

Court Hearing Is Poignant Moment for Blind Attorney

By SALL PETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—"I don't care where I sit," the old lawyer told the attendant. "Can't see, anyway. I'm three-fourths blind. But I can hear and I want to hear everything."

He sat down in the back row, carefully folded his hands over the head of his cane and rested his chin on his hands. In those significant old eyes there came a poignant moment of reverence.

In the high-ceilinged chamber of the U. S. Supreme Court, against the columns of austere marble and the richness of red velvet drapes, men talked of the law.

And as they talked man seemed to grow smaller and the law larger.

The last arguments went on before the moment of decision. Should seven Negro children in a place called Little Rock be allowed to go to school immediately with white children? Or should they be told to wait?

Up on the bench, nine men in black robes listened.

Earl Warren studied the "peaks" with an intense frown. Felix Frankfurter rocked gently back and forth in his leather chair, waiting with a smile to pounce on the first inconsistency. Harold H. Burton sat motionless, frozen in thought. William O. Douglas scratched his sandy hair. Tom Clark sent a court page off for a law book.

They listened, and they also interrupted with questions.

They questioned the speakers slowly, carefully, each in his own way. Each appeared to be probing gently, groping through the argument and counterargument for the illogic and logic, for the extraneous and the essence, for the road to nowhere and the road to truth.

The arguments went on during the afternoon with scarcely any emotion. When they ended, the courtroom began to clear. The old blind lawyer in the back stood up with pride and satisfaction.

The lawyer left. The law remained.

The organization has inaugurated its third annual appeal in this section of the state, which is being conducted on an area basis this year. Admiral Carpenter requested publication of the following information about the Foundation:

PUTSF, the first organization in the country to work in behalf of seminaries, was chartered in 1955 for the purpose of soliciting corporate concerns. Its operational costs are defrayed through a private grant. All contributions are distributed to the affiliated seminaries.

The affiliates are the Philadelphia Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church; Eastern Baptist, Overbrook; Crozer (Baptist), Chester; Lincoln Seminary at Lincoln Park and Western Seminary at Pitt-burgh both under Presbyterian Church auspices. The Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Lancaster, will become the sixth affiliate.

The Foundation strives to close the gap between the educational costs and the available funds of the seminaries. This year's appeal is made on the basis that denominational seminaries do not share in the grants being made by the larger foundations, for educational purposes.

Contributions may be sent to the Foundation at 1809 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

HERB GUSTAFSON

The untimely death of Herbert E. Gustafson, 57, in a fall down a stairway at his home in Sheffield early Saturday morning has cast a pall of gloom, not only in his home community, but in Warren where he was employed at the Penn Furnace & Iron Co., as a fitter. Mr. Gustafson not only was a sincere churchman, taking active parts in all affairs of the Bethany Lutheran congregation, but found much time to devote to civic and club interests, being secretary of the Lions club there at the time of his tragic passing. Our condolences are extended to the bereaved wife and family.

IKE'S GREATEST SPEECH

An ominously calm President Eisenhower calls the bluff of Red leaders in Peiping and in the Kremlin and stiffens U. S. spines in explaining our position in Formosa Strait.

We would welcome negotiations preserving the peace of Formosa, but there will be no Munich in the Pacific. He has hopes for the Warsaw ambassadorial talks, and of UN action if they failed, but says: "We cannot show weakness of purpose or timidity."

"The situation is serious, but it is not desperate or hopeless," the President says. There will be no appeasement. I do not think there will be a war."

For America — and the history books — this may have been Ike's greatest speech.

RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION

Residents of a wide area in the east side are up in arms over the blanket of dust that has settled over the section as a result of "black-topping" of streets recently, including Crescent, from Jackson to Pennsylvania avenue, Madison from Franklin to Prospect and Buchanan from Jackson to Jefferson. Complaints have been made that most of the buildings, lawns and shrubbery are coated with a thick layer of dust and at times so thick it is dangerous to drive faster than a snail's pace. It is recalled there has been no rain to "lay the dust" since the operation was completed.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is on the spot, put there by the Supreme Court and Southern states.

For years he tried to soft-talk the problem of school integration. It didn't work. Now he has to act.

The court, in ruling on Little Rock last Friday, did more than say mob violence and community opposition can't block its ban on public school segregation.

The nine justices, by their unflinching stand, said in effect to the Eisenhower administration: the next step—enforcing our order—is up to you.

Enforcement—or the lack of it—was a central theme in the court's hearings on the Little Rock school board's request for a 2½-year delay in integrating Central High.

Richard C. Butler, attorney for the board, criticized the Eisenhower administration for not prosecuting mob leaders in Little Rock. He also criticized the city and state authorities for not preserving order.

Eisenhower, in the four years since the court's original ruling that segregation by race was unconstitutional, had given no indication his Justice Department had plans for coping with local or statewide defiance of the court.

Instead, he kept calling for patience, although in those four years hardly any integration had occurred in the South. It was as if he had set himself the policy of not irritating Southerners.

But while he talked patience and understanding, the Southern states were bitterly erecting massive barriers of defiance to the court with new laws of their own for blocking integration.

There had to be a showdown sometime. Now it's come in Arkansas and Virginia.

In both states the governors, acting under their new laws, have closed schools ordered integrated by federal judges.

What the administration intends to do is not yet known.

But at least Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers seems better prepared to meet the days ahead than his predecessor in the Justice Department, former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

Since Rogers has arranged for a number of extra U.S. marshals to work in Little Rock, he may be planning legal steps like court injunctions, to force compliance with the court order. Marshals could arrest violators.

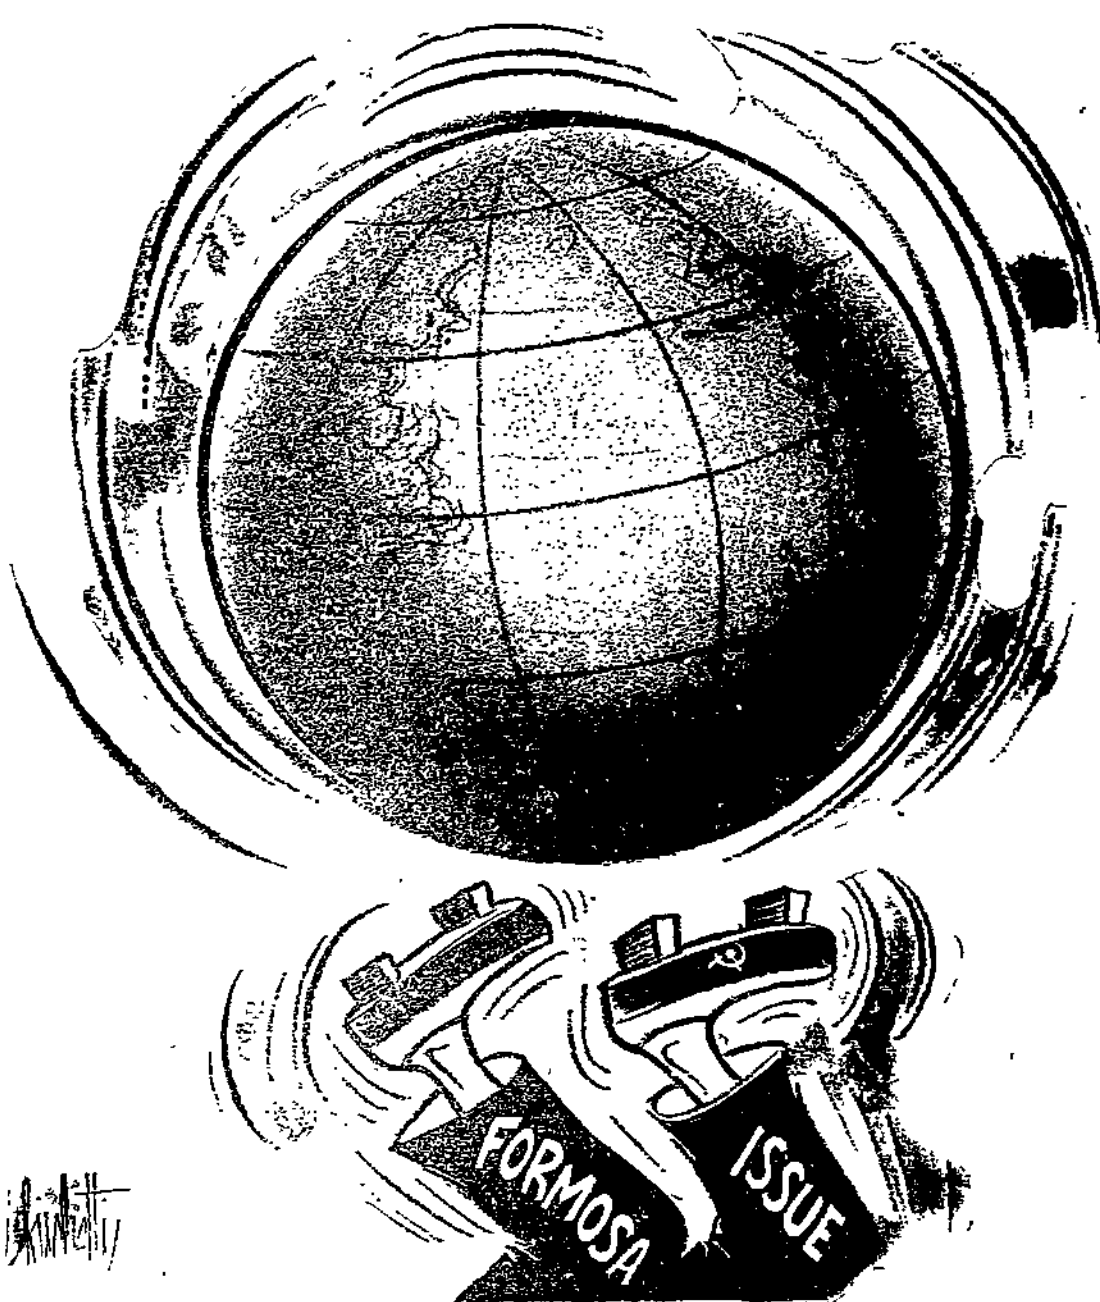

This indicates more foresight than was shown by Brownell when he headed the Justice Department last September at the time the opposition of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus and mob violence suddenly blocked integration of Central High.

The Eisenhower-Brownell answer then was to send in troops—a move Eisenhower had previously indicated he never wanted to make—to back up the court.

That was an extreme step. It's one the administration may have to use again, but probably not before it has taken intermediate steps it didn't try before.

The administration's plans for Virginia are also still up in the air.

Here and There

Some "Back to College" news of fifty years ago of interest to present-day readers is the following from The Evening Times of September 15, 1908: "Warren this year has a large delegation away at school, and among those who have recently departed are — Miss Elizabeth Schnur, for Walnut Hill Preparatory, Natick, Mass.; Miss Mary Talbot, for Smith College; Miss Olive Watson, for Smith College; Harold Eaton, for Troy Tech; Leland Goodrich, for Chamberlain Military Institute at Randolph; Rex Babbitt, Raymond Elrod, Ralph Jackson, Norman Cook and Carl Clark, for Meigsburg; Treat Davidson, Yale; Frank McNamara, Chester Allen, University of Pennsylvania; Catherine Fuller, Wellesley; Marcia Jameson, Walnut Lane, Philadelphia; Evelyn Crandall, Pittsburgh; Mary Dunn, Indiana Normal School; Ernestine Cowan, Ethel Shreve, Blanche Jackson, Oberlin, Ohio; Geraldine Sanderson, New York City; and Lillian Brockway, New Haven."

Many readers of the Times-Mirror will be surprised to learn that fifty years ago the town boasted a flourishing nationally-circulated magazine, which employed scores of workers.

This item from the "Topics of the Times" fifty years ago reminds about the publication: "Preparations are now being made at the plant of Today's Magazine for the arrival of the new Hoe Press, ordered some months ago. The magazine's growth proved so healthy that it long ago outgrew the capacity of the local printing offices and the past few issues have been printed in New York City. The quarter of a million mark in circulation has been surpassed and the growth still continues. The publication is a fine one and a credit to the city. It is also a valuable acquisition to Warren inasmuch as it employes about 100 people. The new press ordered will be the largest in this end of the state and will require the services of an experienced pressman to look after it." Another item about the industry, which appeared in the column the following day says: "Today's Magazine, which employs a large number of girls, is preparing to open a lunch counter for the girls, where hot coffee, tea and other drinks as well as edibles can be secured. The welfare movement will be greatly appreciated by the girls and other employees of the plant." And here's another item of interest today: "The Stein store in the Beaty block will soon be improved in appearance by the installation of a new front. Charles Hamm now has a force of men at work on the front and when completed it will be one of the finest on the street. Mr. Hamm designs and executes most of the high-class work done in the city's storefronts."

The following is included in a release about the "Maid of the Mist" Festival, which opened at Niagara Falls Sunday:

Maid of the Mist, according to an Indian Legend, was LeLawa, daughter of Eagle Eye, Chief of Ongias (Niagaras), a tribe long extinct. Ongias lived by the "Thunderer of Waters" known now as Niagara Falls. In caves beneath the Falls dwelt Thunder God, Hinum and his two sons, immortal warriors. For centuries, scores of Ongias died during the period of the new moon in the fall of the year, from causes unknown. They laid the blame at the cave of Hinum and his sons. Each year at harvest time Ongias decked a canoe with fruit, game and with flowers and sent it hurtling over the Falls seeking to appease Thunder God. But the dying continued so, Eagle Eye declared that instead of fruit, game and flowers the Ongias would send its most beautiful maiden to Thunder God. Chosen was LeLawa, fairest of all, daughter of Eagle Eye. She was selected for the sacrifice during a great ceremonial feast held on the shores of the river above the Great Falls. Women of her clan dressed her in white doekskins and placed a crown of woodland flowers on her head. As the ceremonial feast was at its climax she gave thanks to the Great Spirit for the honor accorded her and stepped into the sacrificial canoe. Legend goes on to say that Hinum's two sons caught her in their arms at the bottom of the falls. Each of the immortal warriors desired the lovely princess and battled for her hand causing the earth to quake and the mist of the Falls to rise for miles in the heavens casting a shadow over the sun. LeLawa stopped the battle and promised she would accept one of the brothers on one condition—if she were told how her people might rid themselves of the evil which took so many lives each year and if she were allowed to tell her people of this evil, she promised to return to the cave beneath the Falls where she would live forever under the Bridal Veil. At first the brothers were reluctant but finally the younger told LeLawa of a giant watersnake which nested at the bottom of the river. The reptile would grow hungry once a year and at night, while the Indians slept, would enter their village and poison the water. The serpent devoured souls of those who died, thus appeasing his hunger. In spirit form LeLawa returned to her people and told them how to destroy the monster. On the night of the snake's last visit, Indian braves set upon it with bows and arrows, spears and tomahawks. Mortally wounded, the serpent attempted to escape to his lair in the river but Indian Gods decreed that its head be caught on one side of the river and its tail on the other. Its writhings ceased in a semicircle and formed the brink of

New Education Aid Program Suffers From Cash-Anemia

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It will be some months and, for a few programs, a full year before provisions of the new National Defense Education Act can be put into effect.

One of the first things the new Congress will have to do when it returns in January is to appropriate some more money.

As passed by the last Congress, the act authorizes expenditures of 180 million dollars the first year. But only 40 millions were appropriated.

U.S. Office of Education has now allocated available funds to make a start on all programs. To keep them rolling for a full year it will need another 140 millions.

MOST PUBLIC ATTENTION has been focused on the college student loan fund provisions, for which 47.5 million dollars were authorized and six millions appropriated for one year.

Many colleges already have student loan plans in operation. To get federal funds—up to one-ninth of the total amount they lend—the colleges will have to sign an agreement with U.S. Commissioner of Education L. G. Derthick. It is expected that some of the new loan money will be available for college year second semesters in early 1959.

The program to grant 5,000 higher education fellowships in the next four years is intended to turn out more Ph.D. college instructors, of which there is a shortage. Candidates will be selected next spring and begin their advanced studies next fall.

Each fellow will receive $2,000 the first year, $2,200 the second, $2,400 the third, plus $499 a year for each dependent. In addition, each of the 160 institutions of higher learning qualified to give graduate instruction will receive $2,500 for each fellow it enrolls.

Congress authorized 1,000 fellowships for the first year, which would cost five million dollars. But only $800,000 has been allocated to start this program. This is enough for only about 160.

TO TRAIN CAREER guidance counselors who can identify and encourage talented high school pupils, Congress authorized expenditures of 6.25 million dollars the first year. No appropriation was made, however, so two millions is allocated to get this started.

Contracts will be made with colleges interested in giving the necessary courses. Training can be given in four to 12 weeks. Teachers taking the courses will be paid $75 a week, plus $15 for each dependent. The federal government will foot the full bill, the states paying nothing. Goal of the new program is to provide one full-time counselor for every 300 pupils instead of the one counselor now working at it part time for every 800 pupils.

For specialized training of foreign country experts, the new education act calls for creation of language and area centers and language institutes.

THE CENTERS WILL teach rare modern languages—spoken by millions in Asia and Africa—but not taught in the United States for lack of both students and teachers.

The language institutes authorized by the new act are intended to train language teachers on the latest methods of aural instruction by tape recordings instead of the usual visual education systems. Teachers taking these courses will be paid $75 a week plus $15 for each dependent.

Congress authorized expenditures of 7.25 million dollars for first-year operation of the area centers and 8.0 million dollars for the institutes. No appropriations were made for either. Office of Education has allocated $800,000 to get the two programs started. But both will be slow in getting under way.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's tempestuous flirtation with record high prices is stealing the business show today.

It concerns everyone with some money to invest or otherwise invested or with a job that market psychology could affect if only indirectly.

The question is: Why the big rise?

It is because business is turning up, meaning increased sales and profits—and dividends?

Or is the main drive behind the bulls the belief that further inflation means a markup in the market price of everything — another way of saying a drop in the market value of the dollar?

On the first point there are concrete signs that some corporate earnings have halted their slide and others started up again.

Of 24 companies whose fiscal year is advanced so that their third quarter has already ended 12 report profits increased over last year and 12 show declines. The second dozen fell a little more than the other advanced. Combined the 24 show this year's third quarter trailing the year before figures by 8.8 per cent ($47,499,610 vs. $52,100,719).

But this is strikingly better than earlier in the year when corporate earnings on average trailed 1957 by 33 per cent.

Part of the better showing is due to a pickup in sales. The third quarter of these 24 early reporters covers the months when various statistical indexes showed an upswing after their long drop.

Part of the gain is due to cost cutting drives which have improved various firms' profit margins. A little increase in sales can thus be turned into a big increase in profits.

Part is due to the recent completion of new plants and installation of new equipment, which offset rising labor costs and cut operating expense.

Granting the better health of the business community, market analysts still wonder just how far in advance the recovery has been discounted by the bull market in stocks. To bring yields on stocks up enough to justify their new high prices, dividends will have to increase considerably.

Despite some omissions and rate cutting, dividends have been holding up well. But Henry H. Heilmann, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Credit Management, estimates that on average corporations are paying out in dividends 80 per cent of their earnings.

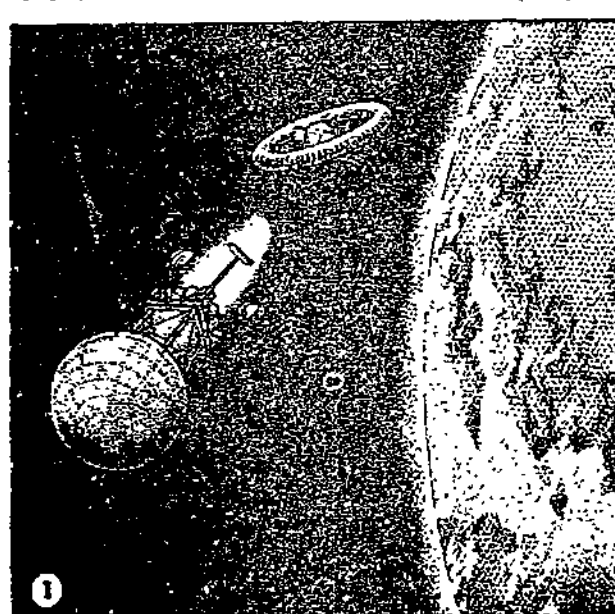

Many bulls may be paying little attention to retained earnings or present yields. They seem to be counting on general price inflation to justify high stock quotations.

In part this is because they think that the wage-price spiral is now firmly built into the American economy. This is often called creeping inflation.

In part their belief is grounded on the whopping federal deficit now officially foreseen. In a few months the national debt will reach a new high, surmounting any wartime year.

The Tax Foundation, a private research organization, translates the prospective national debt as equivalent to a $2,240 mortgage on every American family. It says the nearly eight billion dollar carrying charge on the federal debt works out to $44 a year per family.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (19)—First Men to the Moon

(1) Assembly completed, fuel and equipment loaded and crew installed in their spherical cabin. The Moon rocket is ready for its pioneer voyage.

Already moving some 15,000 miles per hour alongside the space station in a two-hour orbit around the Earth, the Moon ship ignites its rockets and pulls slowly away from the mother base. Still a satellite of Earth, it accelerates under timed rocket firings in a widening spiral orbit.

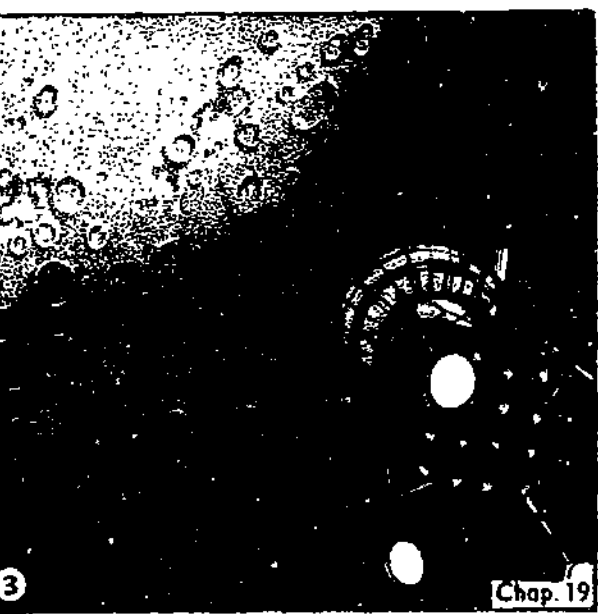

When at the precise position in reference to the Moon, a final blast of its rockets brings it up to escape velocity (approximately 25,000 m.p.h.) and the Moon ship hurls itself away from Earth like a pebble from a cosmic slingshot.

(2) The ship must aim for a point in space where the Moon will be some two-and-a-half days later (the time required for a one-way journey), at a time when the Moon is closest to Earth, 221,463 miles away. Any error in course can be corrected by using the rockets.

Now at escape velocity, but still under the influence of Earth's gravity, the ship coasts with decreasing momentum until the gravity of the Moon takes over. It then begins falling with mounting speed toward the Moon. The trip could be shortened by using power, but this method makes the most economical use of fuel.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(3) The first manned ship will probably not attempt a landing on that body, but will remain in orbit around it for a period, investigating and photographing its surface, particularly that side never seen from Earth. An actual landing will come later, after more is learned of the Moon in its "virgin" state, and before chance contamination by bacteria carried from Earth distorts the findings of scientists. To return to the space station, the same procedure will be used as at the beginning. This time a velocity of only about 5,400 m.p.h. will be required to escape Moon's pull.

Next: Landing on the Moon.

Rowing is one of the oldest means of transportation. The Phoenicians and Greeks used ships called biremes and triremes, because they had either two or three levels of rowers, to carry men and materials. These were powered by slaves, chained to their seats, each with a long oar and directed by a master. The captain steered the craft with a large sweep at the stern.

Susan Higginbotham Becomes Bride Of Ronald A. Shaw In Church Rite

A double ring ceremony at 2:00 p. m. September 6 in Beth-el EUB church, united in marriage Susan C. Higginbotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Higginbotham, Warren RD 2, and Ronald A. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Shaw, Russell RD 2.

Rev. Howard L. Cartwright officiated against a background of palms and two vases of white gladioli and mums. Mrs. Jean Fitzgerald provided organ music for Judy Toner, of Nyack, N. Y., who sang "Together", "Wedding Hymn" and "Saviour, like a Shepherd Lead Them".

Escorted by her father, the bride appeared in floor length white chantilly lace over net and satin, fashioned with fitted satin bodice, sabrina neckline, and long sleeves which came to a point over her hands. Her fingertip veil was caught to a hat of white lace touched with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses and ivy. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the bridegroom's gift.

Maid of honor was Elaine Cartwright, in full skirted Irish green taffeta, with a white feather hat, and bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses tied with yellow streamers. Bridesmaid was Carol Toner, in crayon green taffeta, with accessories and bouquet to match the maid of honor's.

Junior bridesmaid for her sister was Becky Higginbotham, wearing white nylon and lace, and carrying a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses. Flower girl was Karen Sison, the bride's cousin, in white nylon and lace, with a basket of yellow sweetheart roses and delphinium, tied with yellow streamers.

Robert Shaw was best man for his brother, Ralph Shaw, Jr., and Robert Higginbotham, brothers of the principals, served as ushers.

The bride's mother chose pink and black taffeta with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother selected turquoise silk with beige accessories, each with a rose corsage.

A reception for 70 guests followed at the National Forge Clubhouse, where decorations included white gladioli and mums, the table centered with a four-tier wedding cake and attendant's bouquets. Mrs. Harry Huckabone served the cake, Mrs. Otto Sison was at the punch bowl; Mrs. Ernest Toner served coffee. In charge of decorations and the reception were Mrs. Albert Toner, Mrs. Ida Schwank, and Mrs. Mary Schuler, all aunts of the bride. Margaret Toner supervised the guest book.

Out of town guests were from Salamanca and Nyack, N. Y.

For traveling, the bride chose a taffeta fall dress, with black accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. The newlyweds will reside at 201 Russell street, Warren.

The bride, 1957 Warren High School graduate, is employed by New Process Company. Graduated from WHS in 1955, the bridegroom is employed by Warren State Hospital.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Mrs. Lillian Huckabone, Mrs. Frieda Toner, Elaine Cartwright and Carol Toner.

PHILATHEA CLASS BEGINS NEW YEAR SHEETFIELD — The September meeting of Philathea Class of First Methodist church was held at the church, with a tureen supper served to 18 members, Mrs. Clarence Studley serving as hostess.

Mrs. Norman Samuelson, president, conducted the business session, when plans were made for the new year, including a program resume by the committee, Mrs. Lawrence Curtin, Mrs. Bruce Smith and Mrs. Wallace Sauter. Dime folders were distributed, to be returned to the treasurer in January; a bake sale was announced for September 20. Mrs. Studley will be in charge and the class will be happy to receive donations through Mrs. Sauter, Mrs. Curtin or Mrs. Samuelson.

The budget was presented by the ways and means committee, Mrs. Wade Cochran and Mrs. Robert Baynes; committee from this class for the WSCS Birth-day Calendar are Mrs. Samuelson, Mrs. Feidler, Mrs. Francis Borden, Mrs. Donald Huber and Mrs. Grandinetti.

For the program, a former teacher, Martha Griffin, reviewed "Riches of the Kingdom" Serving as dinner committee were Lucille Baynes, Mrs. Richard Johnston and Mrs. John Groboski.

PUBLIC CARD PARTY by C. D. A. at St. Joseph's Hall, Tues., Sept. 16th, 8 p. m. Lunch, donation 50c.

Is Bride

Announcement is made of the marriage of Emily J. Ristau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ristau of Clarendon RD 1, to James W. Neall, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, 8 Central avenue, Glen Burnie, Md., on June 21, 1958, in Glen Burnie. The bride, a student nurse at WCA Hospital in Jamestown, N. Y., will continue her training at Franklin Square Hospital in Baltimore. The couple will reside at 8 Central avenue, Glen Burnie.

Graduate

Marilyn Anne Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sharp, 120 Seneca avenue, was a member of the 1958 graduating class at Buffalo General Hospital Nursing School on September 9. Graduate of Warren High in 1955, she will be employed on the Buffalo General staff.

Jamestown Wedding Is Of Interest Locally

A lovely mid-summer wedding in First Presbyterian church in Jamestown August 30 united in marriage Karen Ann Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland E. Campbell, and Robert E. McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. McCormick, both of that city. The Rev. Gilbert F. vanBever performed the ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Asplund of Oakview, was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown of camellia-white hand-clipped chantilly lace and tulle over satin was complemented by a fingertip veil of nylon illusion, held in place by a crown of silk orange blossoms and seed pearls. With it she carried a crescent arrangement of white feathered carnations and stephanotis, centered with white roses, and a handmade lace handkerchief carried by her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Asplund, at their weddings.

Wearing ballerina gowns of tissue taffeta, the maid of honor was Nancy Buzzard in green; bridesmaids, Susanne McVay, Jamestown, and LeAnne Cibaugh, Warren, in pink. Circular veils were attached to matching crowns of looped horsehair with pearl trim, and their flowers were cascades of pink and white roses and shasta daisies. All were classmates of the bride at Millard Fillmore Hospital School of Nursing in Buffalo.

Completing the bridal party, Frank Workers was best man; ushers were the bride's younger brother, Richard Campbell, and Douglas Kling.

The reception for 250 guests followed in the church parlors, where aides included Ann Wendelboe and Joan Cichqueno, of Warren, who also were among hostesses who have honored the bride-elect.

The bride is a graduate of Jamestown High School and of Millard Fillmore Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom, alumnus of Bemus Point High School and Jamestown Community College, was employed by Marlin-Rockwell before entering the Air Force. He is presently stationed at Lowry Air Force Base at Denver, Colo.

Russell WCTU Begins New Fall Activities

RUSSELL — The September meeting of WCTU was held at the home of Myrtle Nelson at Akeley, with Florence Pangborn presiding. She opened the meeting with prayer, remarks and group singing.

Florence Perrigo acted as secretary pro tem, and devotions were given by Halie Russell. Definite plans were made for assistance to the Bible Club in Pine Grove schools, and two volunteered to help take children from school to the church.

Reports were heard from the auditing and finance committee. It was voted to strive for the Standards of Excellence this year. All were urged to attend the Warren County Convention in Sugar Grove September 17, with Martha Houghwot and Halie Holt appointed as delegates. It was agreed to again collect used nylon to send to Japan, to be used by war widows for hand work. These will be in charge of Mrs. Ralph Baker.

The president appointed the following committees: Finance, Viola Putnam, Florence Pangborn; hospitality, Eroth Headland, Rose Bradley, Halie Russell, Ellen Lundgren; publicity, Mildred Duggs, Viola Sears, Martha Houghwot, Myrtle Nelson.

The program consisted of installation of officers by Mrs. Flora Atkins, who gave the charge to the officers, followed by prayers by Mrs. Headland, Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Bradley.

Officers are: President, Florence Pangborn; vice president, Ellen Lundgren; secretary, Halie Holt; treasurer, Viola Putnam. Department directors are: Loy-al Temperance Legion, Joyce Briggs; White Ribbon Recruits, Evelyn Smith; aimed services, Ellen Lundgren; character education, Halie Russell; Christian citizenship, Rose Bradley; flower mission and relief, Ethel Baker; international relations for peace, Flora Atkins; literature, Florence Perrigo; speech contests, Mrs. Eugene Spencer; temperance and missions, Rose Enos; visual education, Victoria Swanson.

The program closed with group singing, with Janet Phillips at the piano, and a reading by Martha Houghwot. The hostess served refreshments, and all are invited to the next meeting at the Russell church on October 14.

EAST STREET UNIT PLANS FOR NEW YEAR
Executive committee members of East Street PTA met informally at the home of Mrs. Elmer Werlin, president, with the following in attendance: Mrs. Charles Selin, vice president; Mrs. Robert Knupp, secretary; Mrs. Daniel Troxell, treasurer, Mrs. William Highhouse, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. William Gillett and Mrs. Floyd Hollabaugh.

Plans were discussed for a Thrift Sale in October; also a bazaar, a mock bake sale, and ice cream social during the year. Appointment of the following chairmen was announced: Program, Mrs. Selin; publicity, Mrs. William Cashman and Mrs. Robert Knupp; home room mothers, Mrs. William Gillett; membership, Mrs. William Highhouse and Mrs. Frank Foster; devotions, Mrs. Floyd Hollabaugh; legislation, The Rev. Harry Grimes, advisor, Paul Mutzabaugh.

The Mature Parent

'I Did the Best I Could' Are Words to Make You Free

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. B. writes, "Four years ago when my only child was three years old, I was divorced from his father. But I did not tell him this until recently, always speaking about his father nicely. Now he's suddenly developed bedtime fears of nightmares and ghosts. As I work, we live with my parents who are very good to him. . . . Why has Mrs. B. postponed telling her child of her divorce?"

Was she ashamed to tell him? Did she hate confessing that she had deprived him of a "normal" home by choosing the wrong man for his father?

The besetting problem of all divorced parents is their excessive sense of guilt toward their children.

If Mrs. B. told the truth to her son apologetically, he might indeed respond with bedtime fears. For she was presenting herself to him as a bad mother who had injured him, and so invited him to expect more injury at her hands. Naturally he would clutch at her for reassurance at bedtime and other times of separation.

It is essential for divorced parents to become aware of the guilt they feel toward children. Unless we recognize what a poor opinion we have of ourselves, we can't begin to see how unreasonable it is.

So long as we're content to secretly believe ourselves bad parents, children give us an awful time. They fiercely resent our self-depreciation and will bicker, demand and defy until we're able to say to ourselves, "I've had enough of this. I am sick and tired of being punished for my sins."

This is a point that Mrs. B. may need to reach. To reach it she may require someone to help her. Not those parents who are so "good" to her little boy, but a priest minister or social worker who can open her eyes to the truth that makes us free—the fact that she did the best she could.

Guilt is an evil thing because it tells us that we should have done better than we could. It is hate of our limitations as they existed in the past. It imprisons us in a child's fairyland where no human limitations exist—and we can change the self we were as readily as we can fly over the moon.

Warren Art Group To Have "Sidewalk Show"

Warren Art Group announces it will hold its second annual Sidewalk Show on Saturday, September 20, from 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. under the leadership of Chairman Mary Whitten.

The first Sidewalk Show in May, 1957, was a great success in spite of snow which forced members to display their paintings inside the court house. This site has been chosen again this year, it is hoped to make it really a Sidewalk Show.

At the Woman's Club Show in the spring, judges were very enthusiastic about the quality of work submitted by Warren artists, commenting that they had made great progress and work is on a highly creative level.

Many of those who exhibited at the Woman's Club will be represented in the Sidewalk Show.

Show Among Warren Art Group members exhibiting are Sybil McCrea, with her charming caseines; Mrs. H. A. Logan's floral paintings; Eva Smith, Ethel Kahle, and Katherine Lott, who are known for their watercolors. A number of this group who have received awards at regional shows will be displaying some of their latest work.

Don Wharton, portrait artist and owner of Deerhead Inn at Spring Creek, will be present again this year to do sketching on-the-spot.

Members of the Art Group will be present to welcome and assist the public in every way.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

It Was a Short Fight and a Good One, but the Sack Won

Few women are able to accept a radical change in fashion without fighting it for a while.

The average woman at first views with alarm any new look that heralds a decided change in hemline, waistline or basic silhouette. As she thumps through fashion magazines and wanders through the shops, she rebels against the sudden change. Mentally she clings to the kind of clothes she has been wearing, and tells herself and her friends, "I can't wear the new styles and I'm not going to try. Why should I look ridiculous just to be in style?"

It's brave talk, and she almost manages to convince herself that she has the courage of her convictions.

But while she is protesting and holding back and making speeches, the more fashion-minded women in her group are rushing in to buy and be the first to wear the "latest thing."

And then the fight is over. For the average woman now begins to feel frumpy in her old clothes. She changes the hemlines to bring them more in line with the current fashion, moves belts, and then salutes forth feeling a little better.

But still her clothes aren't quite right. And the first thing you know those clothes she was going to cling to because they suited her look strangely and embarrassingly old-fashioned even in her eyes.

So she gets out the fashion magazines again, goes on a few more shopping trips and suddenly decides that the new look isn't so bad after all.

Right then she is ready to fall in line—and she does. That's why the fashion designers don't worry much about the first indignant feminine reaction to the major fashion changes.

They know they can depend on the small group of women who can't wait to wear the latest fashion to make the average woman of conservative tastes feel conspicuous in her last year's clothes.

Membership Drive Is Inaugurating 29th Annual Warren Players Season

Warren Players' Club today announced the opening of the membership drive for the 29th season. One of Warren's oldest active organizations, Warren Players' has for all of its history provided area theatre-goers with an opportunity to see the best that Broadway has had to offer, as well as offering its members the chance to participate in the many phases which go into successful play production.

The membership committee, in kicking off their big drive, is emphasizing this year the fact that membership is open to all. Warren Players' is not a selective organization. Its members come from all walks of life in the community, and the only qualifications necessary for membership are an interest in plays and the effort made to fill out a membership application.

Two types of membership are possible in Players'. For the person who desires only to see four plays a year without active participation in their production, an associate membership is available. If one is desirous of working actively, either in production, acting, set design, makeup, or any of many other tasks connected with the plays, an active membership will fill the bill. There is no difference in price between the two. Each is $4.00 for the year, and the membership committee reports no bigger bargain is available today. One needn't do a thing but join. Then he can sit back and enjoy four evenings of fine, amateur entertainment.

Membership flyers and applications have gone out to many members of the community and will continue to be mailed this week. Later in the week an ad will appear in local papers offering anyone not receiving an application a chance to join by merely clipping the application in the paper.

Tomorrow, the names and dates for the four plays will be released to the public, and on succeeding days Players' will be telling more about Warren's "Biggest Entertainment Bargain."

84th Annual Convention of Warren Co. WCTU in Sugar Grove Church

The 84th annual convention of Warren County WCTU will convene in the Methodist church at Sugar Grove on Wednesday, Vice President Bessie Johnson convening the initial session at 9:30 a. m.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Mabel Dallas, president of Chautauque County WCTU and former Warren county president. She will bring highlights from the national convention held in Washington, D. C.

The public is cordially invited to attend the gathering, the detailed program for which will be as follows:

Registration and reception; devotions, Mrs. O. R. Swanson; flag salutes, Miss Clara Wickstrom; acceptance of program; appointment of committees.

Reports of corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gladys Jamieson; treasurer, Mrs. Viola Putnam; LTL, Mrs. John Mallory; poster and essay awards; pre-election prayer, Mrs. Mabel Moyer; election of officers, consecration and noon prayer, Mrs. Josephine Craker.

Following adjournment, a luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. and members will enjoy a social hour until the afternoon session convenes at 1:30 p. m. Details for this program will be as follows:

Devotions, Rev. Alvin Rhodes; Methodist minister; special music; greetings: Sugar Grove WCTU, Miss Flossie Broughton; churches, Rev. Robert Williams; Free Methodist pastor; response, Mrs. Marie Deshner; President's annual message, Faith in an Atomic Age; special music, Judy and Jimmy Williams; address, Mrs. Dallas; Memorial Service; installation of officers, Rev. Floyd Martin; Chandler's Valley EUB; reading of Journal; closing prayer.

CONSTITUTION DAY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The Constitution of the United States of America gives us the foundation for a free, prosperous and independent life for every citizen, but each generation, in time, must work for and claim it, otherwise, through carelessness or indifference, the rights and liberties we have enjoyed may vanish; and

WHEREAS, It is of the greatest consequence that the citizens understand the provisions and principles contained in the Constitution of the United States of America in order to be able to properly support it as, "The greatest document for human liberty in two thousand years of recorded history;" and

WHEREAS, The people of the United States should be deeply grateful to their Founding Fathers for the wisdom and foresight they displayed in writing and adopting the Constitution; and

WHEREAS, The independence granted to the American people to enjoy such freedom and liberty, unknown to any other country, should be celebrated by appropriate ceremonies and activities during Constitution Week, September 17-23, as designated by proclamation of the President of the United States in accordance with Public Law No. 915;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William E. Rice, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Burgess of the Borough of Warren in the State of Pennsylvania do hereby proclaim the week of September 17-23, 1958 as in the Borough of Warren, and urge all our citizens to pay special attention during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American citizenship. In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Borough of Warren to be affixed this 15th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-eight, and the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and eighty-second.

Tragic Death of Sheffield Man Is Mourned by Many

HERB GUSTAFSON

Herbert E. Gustafson, 57, one of the best known and most beloved residents of Sheffield, met a tragic death early Saturday morning when he accidentally fell down a flight of 14 steps in his home at 307 Horton avenue.

A physician who was called, advised Coroner Ed Lowrey Mr. Gustafson died almost instantly from a fractured skull and broken neck.

The accident occurred about 4:30 a. m. Saturday when Mr. Gustafson was returning to his room from the bath room across the hall, and accidentally stepped through the open stairway, falling to the first floor and crumpling under a small cabinet at the foot of the stairs.

Grief-stricken Mrs. Gustafson says she heard him fall and immediately summoned a brother of the victim who lives nearby, along with a doctor. A certificate of death from a broken neck received in an accidental fall was issued.

Services for Mr. Gustafson were held at two o'clock this afternoon with his pastor, the Rev. Carl Eliason, officiating. Interment was in Sheffield cemetery.

Mr. Gustafson, employed as a fitter at the Penn Furnace & Iron in this city, was born in Ludlow March 18, 1901, but had resided in Sheffield most of his life. Nationalists

Communists tightened their blockade early this month.

After being silent throughout the night, Red guns opened up with sporadic fire at 8:30 a. m. In the next six hours they dropped 103 shells on the Quemoy.

Newsmen were barred from visiting the Pescadores, Matsu and supply-short Quemoy.

This hint that some sort of major operation might be under way came as a new sea convoy was forming at the Pescadores island supply base 30 miles from Formosa and 70 miles from Quemoy.

The Nationalists also stepped up their propaganda war, dropping millions of leaflets on the mainland.

Sunday's successful convoy was directed by U. S. amphibious experts, who apparently showed the Nationalists some new techniques.

As usual, escort ships from the U. S. 7th Fleet stopped at the three mile limit and lay offshore. The American jets covering the operation were believed under similar orders.

The supply ship that got through was an old World War II LST (landing ship, tank), a much larger vessel than the LSM's (landing ship, medium), which failed on four convoys last week. The LST can carry about 1,300 tons of cargo compared with 350 for the LSM.

The LST slammed up to the beach and opened the huge doors in its bows shortly after noon. As the Communists started a 1,600-shell barrage, the Nationalists raced ashore with the supplies and the LST withdrew.

The shelling blasted holes in the side of the old landing ship and fragments severed the cables of her doors. The LST was towed out to sea and to her base in the Pescadores.

The air drop on Little Quemoy Island, was termed successful but the Nationalists gave no details.

The United States, meanwhile, was pouring men, missiles and planes into Formosa, which the United States is committed to defend under a 1950 treaty with Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek.

The material also could be thrown into the defense of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu if President Eisenhower decides they are essential to the defense of Formosa itself.

Federal Government

White demonstrators rioted last fall in attempting to remove nine Negro students from previously all-white Central. Federal troops drove the demonstrators away and enforced integration orders.

The shutdown of school here marked the first time authorities had invoked school closing laws to prevent mixing white and Negro pupils in classrooms.

Federal Dist. Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith, Ark., decried pressing court business to fly here. He said he would be at the courthouse today even though "I have no reason at present to anticipate any legal action in this matter coming before me."

The Justice Department held 150 deputy U. S. marshals in readiness and procured signs warning persons not to interfere with the officers.

Faubus was expected sooner or later to open Central High and the other institutions as private schools under lease agreements.

Many expected him to delay such action until after Oct. 7, date of an election in which voters will ballot on whether they want to keep the public schools closed or want them integrated.

Swift Action

Designation of the three-man monitor board was part of the settlement of that suit.

Schmidt announced he has offered to go before the Senate committee to spell out his charges that the monitors have received "definitely no cooperation and precious little compliance" from Hoffa in their efforts to cleanse corruption from the union.

Sheffield Varsity Downs Baby Dragons

Warren Baby Dragons were whipped with a 54-0 tally at Sheffield Saturday as Sheffield varsity Wolverines staged a one-man battle in their 1958 grid opener. Sheffield Coach Lou DeRubies was plagued with old injuries from last season although most of his veteran stars were in action. DeRubies has 11 experienced lettermen back, all good starters. Jayvee mentor Wally Jewell took his young charges to Memorial field this afternoon for a game with Corry Reserves.

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never suspect if he didn't open his mail.

That some psychiatrists here are switching patients from couches to posture chairs, while some dentists are switching their patients from chairs to couches. The head shinkers believe patients reveal their fears quicker sitting up, the tooth tuggers find they submerge their fears better lying down.

One of Abraham Lincoln's favorite tunes was "Dixie," the minstrel melody, written by a Northerner, that became the Southland's anthem.

Genesis is the most popular book of the Bible in the Far East. Buddhism has no story of the creation, and its adherents are interested in how the world started.

The new Boeing 707 jet, at maximum cruising speed, flies as fast as a bullet from a .45 caliber pistol. It carries enough fuel to last the average motorist 45 years.

New England has been settled over 300 years, but three-fourths of its area still is classified as forest land.

When ancient Rome started its decline, the city had 956 public baths, and free shows were given the populace on 175 days a year. That's the trouble with giveaway programs—they never last.

One reason for Europe's original worldwide influence was that it had more good harbors than any other continent.

England was ruled by Rome for some 500 years. It was during this period that the English natives dropped one of their quaintest customs, painting themselves blue.

The average U. S. citizen now eats a ton of food a year. One in 4 American households now has two or more television sets.

Milk is one of the oldest miracle foods. Modern doctors tell adults to drink a pint a day. Hippocrates, the "father of medicine," prescribed milk to his patients five centuries before the Christian Era.

In olden times the English marriage service read "till death do us depart." The word "depart" then meant "separate" or "divide."

It was George Meredith who predicted, "Woman will be the last thing civilized by man."

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—And they said Hollywood was losing its glamor!

Certainly the events of the year thus far have belied that notion. Now, you have the Debbie-Eddie-Liz triangle.

Here is a more calculated view of the trio, taken from a close-up angle:

1. Eddie is a show biz veteran who was singing at New York's Copacabana when he should have been in high school. He came up the hard way, singing in joints as well as the classy niteries. That's an education that can swiftly make a man out of a boy.

Eddie is an affable, amiable fellow. But he has been under stress. His career took a big slide, and he was naturally upset.

After he returned from the service, Eddie was tops. Teen-age girls screamed for him, and every record he made sold a million copies. But as it must for all idols, the following passed on to other favorites.

Thus it was in an upset state that Eddie Fisher found himself in New York with the luscious Debbie. They were best friends.

2. The public's impression of Elizabeth Taylor has sometimes been that of a girl whose life was ruled by other people. The fact is that she nearly always has gotten what she wanted.

Her parents refused her nothing, including an early marriage to Nicky Hilton. Nor did the tough-minded Mike Todd rule her. If was his delight to satisfy her every whim, whether it was canceling a social engagement or buying a diamond necklace.

A girl with her attributes could obviously get whatever she wanted, including possibly Eddie Fisher.

3. Debbie Reynolds has been famed for her portrayals of sweet young things. Actually, she is one of the shrewdest of the young stars. She is willing to fight it out with studio heads or anyone else to get what she feels is the proper treatment.

In a battle of words, she is bound to come out on top. Thus has been shown already in her exchanges with Liz.

Will Debbie take Eddie back? Will he choose Liz instead? Will this torpedo his career? You'll have to wait for further details in this scintillating soap opera.

Democratic Chairman To Reply to Charges

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Lancaster County Democratic chairman will get the right to reply in court under oath to testimony by a convicted crackpot contractor that he took kickbacks on cinder contracts.

Chairman David R. Eaby reported over the weekend that he won assurance of an opportunity to reply at a conference with Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride and Huetle F. Dowling, Dauphin County district attorney.

Eaby has denied court testimony of Victor Prep. Crackville, twice convicted on charges of defrauding the State Highways Department on cinder contracts.

Dragons Win Opener 14 to 0 Before Record Crowd

Mascaro, Dick Terry and Haslet Lead Blue & White To a Victory Over Corry

By LARRY

Making a last minute bid with a fast, ever-pressing back field and a strong forward wall, both defensive and offensive, Warren Dragons scooted the pigskin over the goal line twice past Corry Beavers to lash the visitors 14-0 on Memorial field in the last quarter after a see-saw three quarter affair in the 1958 grid opener Saturday. A backfield not seen on Warren grid field in a couple of years was contentedly driving with supremely executed twists, turns and spins in an attempt to break the 0-0 deadlock for three quarters.

Big men all afternoon were backs Lou Mascaro, Dick Terry and Bob Haslet.

Quarterback Lou Mascaro is given full credit for both touchdowns as he scrambled 17 yards for the initial one, following the same path two minutes later in a 23 yard gallop.

The win places Warren in a first place tie in Section II with Oil City, who won over Titusville Saturday. No other conference games were played.

SECTION II

Team	W.	L.
Warren	1	0
Oil City	1	0
Franklin	0	0
Corry	0	1
Titusville	0	1

Warren executed a pass to Bill Brumagim for the extra point. Corry's deepest penetration came in the final period as Warren moved to their 22. But a fourth pass went awry and Warren took over.

Terry took a 42-yard sprint in the second quarter to the Corry one, but the Beavers held on four downs.

Last year, Corry whipped Warren 32-7.

Saturday on Memorial, Warren will host Franklin at 1:30. In '57, the clubs battled to a 6-6 tie, only game in which Warren wasn't handed a loss.

MASCARO BREAKS AWAY: Blasting artillery in Saturday's Warren-Corry encounter was Lou Mascaro (24), shown here dashing away from Beaver Rudy Silves (69) in an attempt to score for Warren: Upwards of 5,000 fans watched the season opener as Dragons topped Corry 14-0, tying them with Oil City for Section II first place. "Back the Dragons" promotion has given the Warren squad the assurance needed to play the best of ball right down the line. Saturday's game was a grueling scoreless first three quarters with Warren's powerhouse backfield and stubborn front wall pushing across the 14-0 score in last quarter. Saturday at 1:30 on Memorial, Warren faces Franklin, tying them last year 6-6 and losing remaining eight.—Timesphoto by McGarry.

Pirates Stubbornly Refuse To Walk Plank in National

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pirates simply refuse to walk the plank. Six down with only nine games to play, Pittsburgh will not concede to the Milwaukee Braves.

Bob Friend, top winner in the National League, posted his 21st victory for Pittsburgh Sunday in the second game against Chicago 6-2 after Ted Kuszewski's sacrifice fly had won the first game 5-4.

Milwaukee lost to Los Angeles 5-3 on a two-run homer by Don Demeter. As a result of the defeat and the Pirates' double success, the Braves' lead was cut to six games. They still need any combination of five victories or Pittsburgh defeats to nail down those series checks.

Joe Cunningham, filling in for Stan Musial at first base, hit two home runs against Philadelphia as St. Louis racked up a 6-3 decision from Sam Jones. The strikeout leader of the majors fanned six, boosting his season total to 212 while winning his 13th.

Willie Mays came to life in the second game at Cincinnati with a double and three singles in San Francisco's second-game 6-4 victory. Bob Purkey won his 11th for Cincinnati in the opener 4-3.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils boosted his average to .342 with three hits in five trips against the Cards to widen his lead over Stan Musial in the National League batting race.

Friend went all the way for the Pirates in their second game with the Cubs, pitching a six-hitter. Bill Mazeroski set a Pirate record for homers by a second baseman with 19 and Bob Skinner lashed No. 13.

K. of C. PLANS MEETING TUESDAY

Announcement has been made that the K. of C. Sports Night Committee will hold an important meeting Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the club rooms.

Reminder is also made that ladies are cordially invited to purchase tickets for the event to be held on October 12th.

"Local Athlete" Wins the Kinzua Open Golf Tourney

Scores soared in yesterday's Kinzua Open as only four golfers managed to break 80 and local athlete, Bob Blair, with a 76 won the first prize trophy.

Grouped behind him for First Flight honors were Joe Scallise at 78 and Bob Johnson and Jack Clarkson with 79s.

Ten other participating 1st Flighters found the fast greens and soft approaches playing havoc with their scores.

In 2nd Flight play, Ross Kremer took the trophy with an 81 after a sudden death playoff with Gail Nelson, who tied and ended up with a dozen Titleist golf balls. At 83, Sam Scallise, Immo Morrison, and Louis Carlson. At 84, Walt Dremann, Sam Erost and Danny Lord shared honors.

Elmer Dutchess won the trophy for 3rd Flight, and Dick Munch followed the winning 83 with an 87. At 90, Howard Boyd was third; grouped at 91 in fourth place were Paul Rosenquist, B. Abbott, Howard Goodard took 5th with a 93.

In 4th Flight, a 95 by Meyer Pappalardo won the trophy; At 97, Dick Stahlman received 12 golf balls; and at 99 Ken Greenlund and John Hanna, Jr. were tied for 3rd.

Leo Salerno, Ward Collins and Merle Fidenal won prizes for closest to pin on Holes No. 4, 7, and 9 respectively.

On a beautiful day for golf, nobody in the Championship Flight, ever got hot enough to score well. In contrast, on the previous rained out August 24 date, several were in position to better par or equal it after the first nine holes.

Kinzua Golf Course, where 72 is still the course record, evidently will not yield to par-busters, and unless the Industrial League's break the record of even par, it seems certain to stand for another year.

In Industrial League play, a tie was won by the New York Restaurant, second year running they have won the championship. Sylvania No. 1 received 2nd place and Logan Shop and Bill's Driving Range have a playoff today to decide third and fourth.

Prospects for Expanding Major League Baseball

Last of a Series

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Four times in the last 15 months Minneapolis big league baseball promoters have been left in the lurch.

But they don't discourage easily here, or for that matter in neighboring St. Paul, which now figures its chances of landing a big league baseball franchise are just as good as Minneapolis.

Minneapolis ambitions were snagged again this week when Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, decided not to ask the American League for permission to move his franchise.

It was the third time the Senators had brought Minneapolis to the gates of big league baseball, or so the counting goes here.

The Giants looked cozy this way early last year but San Francisco won their hand.

Minneapolis negotiators say there is still a chance to bring a team here next year, possibly Cleveland, and that the American League has promised Minneapolis first crack at any club that decides to move. The city has with-

Pirates Win Two in Chase After Leading Braves

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Undaunted by tremendous odds and apparently unaware of them, the Pittsburgh Pirates continued their chase of the Milwaukee Braves Sunday with a doubleheader sweep of the Chicago Cubs.

A sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Ted Kluszewski gave the Pirates a 5-4 victory in the first game. Then Bob Friend racked up his 11st victory by beating the Cubs 5-2 on six hits.

The triumphs moved the Pirates to within six games of the lead, but only a miracle or total collapse of the Braves could bring the National League pennant to Forbes Field.

Bill Mazeroski established a record for Pirate second basemen by blasting his 19th homer of the year in the second game. The old mark was set by George Grant-ham in 1939.

Bob Skinner also homered in the nightcap, his 13th.

Chicago forged a 4-1 tie in the first game with a four-run rally in the fifth inning, including Chuck Tanner's three-run homer.

Bob Porterfield, in relief, of Curt Raydon, picked up credit for his fourth triumph against six defeats in the opener.

Two Touchdowns In Third Quarter Win for Oil City

Bottled up and trailing for a half, Oil City Oilers exploded for two touchdowns in the third quarter to take a 13-7 lead, then made it stand up to defeat Titusville Rockets in the opening game of the season for both clubs Friday night. The Oilers win ties them for Section II first place honors with Warren who defeated Corry 14-0 Saturday.

Titusville controlled first half, then Oilers did an about-face to take control and win their first victory over Titusville since 1953.

Except for the kickoff which George Dewey returned 55 yards for a touchdown, the game developed into one of breaks with neither team able to cash in until the Oilers turned a big one into the winning marker midway in the third stanza.

Dewey electrified the 3,000 fans when he took opening kickoff on his own 15 darted to his right and behind perfect blocking began to amble up the sideline. He was slowed once or twice but shook free of the downcreek tacklers and went all the way.

Many Interested In Registering For Night School

Over fifty Warren area adults have indicated their desire to go back to school this fall under the Penn State Evening School program but additional registrations will be accepted Wednesday evening, September 17 at 7 p. m. at Beatty Junior High school when classes are scheduled to begin.

Information about the Penn State courses was released this morning by the Education Committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce which has been in contact with Penn State officials.

When the first registration was held recently, major interest was indicated in Practical Accounting and Cost Keeping; Engineering Drafting I; The Shop Foreman; Trigonometry; and Fundamentals of Good Speaking. With a few more registrations in each of these courses, classes will begin at 7 p. m. Wednesday. The balance of the courses offered will have to be dropped due to insufficient interest.

New registrations will still be accepted for the above courses on the 17th and those persons enrolled in dropped courses will be given the opportunity to re-register for the starting courses. All persons starting class should come prepared to pay at least 1/2 their total tuition costs with the balance to be paid before the start of the second eight weeks.

Russell Driver Winner of Grand Champion Thriller

Grinding his way through 100 Grand Championship Jalopy Race machine-mangling laps complete with roll-overs, mass pile-ups and three restarts, Chuck Martin of Russell came out of the smoke new Grand Champion at Stateline Speedway Saturday night.

Martin's win wasn't easy in the long 83 mile chase. Starting at the rear, Martin had no less than 85 other cars to beat to the checkered flag. One spectator said, "With this much machinery loose on it at one time, the third-mile oval resembled a New York subway" at the rush hour, and with vehicles crashing, fence-busting and piling-up at nearly every point, a few of the top men, including Martin, could be seen skillfully threading their way up through the mass of churning racers.

Last year's king, Keith Lundmark, Russell, was involved in an early tangle, losing several laps and his chance at first money. Hard driving brought him back up to fifth place.

Midway, Emory Mahan's mount gave out as did many others.

Two drivers who gave Martin most trouble were Bill Hanson of Westfield and Don Vanderkoo of Stedman, each of whom managed to get ahead of Martin for a few laps. In the 83th circuit, Hanson passed Martin, and in an attempt to regain his lost lead, Martin spun out, letting Vanderkoo shoot into second.

Hanson's car had been howling like a banshee during the entire race. Gear box finally gave up five laps later. Martin closed in, moved ahead of Vanderkoo just in time to get the checkered flag.

Sunday afternoon Stateline winds up their season with a five-star motorcycle program, highest classification in American Motorcycle Association categories. Time trials are set for 1 p. m., first race at 2:30.

Dodgers Manage To Beat Braves 14 of 21 Games

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wonder why the Los Angeles Dodgers have taken 14 of 21 games from the defending champion Milwaukee Braves this season?

Scrappy Don Zimmer of the Dodgers says it's because of being called prima donnas by Braves' Coach Billy Herman, an x-Dodger, during spring training. Some of the Braves' players admit privately that Zimmer may be right.

Herman, a coach with the then Brooklyn Dodgers from 1952-57, was quoted as saying several Dodgers were "lazy, complacent and prima donnas."

He did not mention any names, but later said he did not mean PeeWee Reese, Gil Hodges or Carl Furillo.

After the fifth-place Dodgers' 5-3 victory Sunday, Zimmer said Herman's remarks were "the whole story" behind L. A.'s fine showing against Milwaukee.

With the Candidates

BLATT

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican slatemakers were under fire today from Miss Genevieve Blatt, Democratic candidate for re-election as secretary of internal affairs, for failing to put a woman on their ticket of statewide candidates.

"The Republican candidates for governor and U. S. senator toss off glib platitudes about how women are fit to hold high public office," said Miss Blatt, the first woman to be elected to a state office in Pennsylvania.

"But where are the women on their statewide ticket?" she said in a weekend campaign speech.

"But where are the opportunities for women under Republicanism, much less the chance to acquire the necessary governmental skills if statewide office remains practically a male monopoly?"

Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democratic candidate for governor, told the State Home Builders Assn. at Pittsburgh Sunday that he felt "bitter disappointment" at the failure of housing legislation to pass Congress.

McGONIGLE

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Arthur T. McGonigle predicts Pennsylvania's next governor, Republican or Democrat, will face a giant rebuilding task to put the state's roadways in order.

The Republican candidate for governor contended in a weekend campaign speech that the next chief executive "would be faced not only with the necessity of providing new, modern highways for our people, but of rebuilding the old."

The fault, said McGonigle, rests with the Democratic administration at Harrisburg. He said the administration has "all but ruined" the state's highway network.

Cornplanters End the Season With Victory

Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps won their final appearance of the season Saturday when they were adjudged the finest musical organization to march in the annual Fire Prevention Parade at Jamestown.

They finished ahead of Murray Hose No. 4 and Dunkirk Hose No. 1 in that order.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 lined the streets for the procession. Youngsville Fire Department band took second place in best band department, behind Kittanning Fire Dept., and ahead of Oil City American Legion.

Three-way tie for best appearing fire department came with Busti, Lakewood and Kittanning. Busti won for best appearing auxiliary, with Celoron second.

The Cornplanters, who represented Celoron, N. Y. Hose Company, dispatched two cars to area universities in order that the school members could take part. This winter the Cornplanters will work on possible "rough spots" and add to their musical repertoire.

National Amateur Won By Lanky Charlie Coe

By JACK STEVENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Determination born of a miserable round in last year's Masters Tournament furnished lanky Charlie Coe that extra something needed to win the 1958 National Amateur golf title.

"When I shot an 86 for a round at the Masters, I knew I had to do something about it," the 34-year-old Oklahoma City oil broker declared.

A&P Workers Vote to Accept 1-Year Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. food stores in parts of three states were ready for business today following settlement of a strike of 5,000 employees.

The workers, members of Amalgamated Food Employees Local 590, voted overwhelmingly over the weekend to accept a new one-year contract and end their three-day walkout.

Male employees of 209 A & P stores in parts of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia will receive an additional 14-cents hourly, female employees 12-cents.

Clifton Caldwell, president of Local 590, said the union dropped demands for pension revisions in return for a short contract. The firm originally proposed a three-year agreement.

Caldwell said the union found pension improvements too big a stumbling block at this time, but added a special committee would be created to study the pension program.

The union leader said A. & P. employees would receive an average of $86.60 weekly under the new contract, compared with about $81-a-week previously.

At Least Ten Killed On Penn'a Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 10 people died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend, seven of them on the highways.

In the other accidents, a coal miner died of injuries suffered at work, a man was killed in a fall down a flight of stairs, a baby boy perished in a fire and a boy was killed in a farm accident.

Two of the traffic fatalities—one in Delaware County Sunday, the other in Clinton County Saturday—looked two lives apiece.

Number of Polio Cases in Penn'a Still Declining

HARRISBURG (AP) — The unbroken decline in the number of polio cases in Pennsylvania since the introduction of the Salk anti-polio vaccine has ended. The number so far in 1958 already has exceeded last year's figure.

But Dr. I. F. Gratch, chief epidemiologist for the State Health Department, said today there was no cause for alarm except to point out that nine out of 10 cases reported to date involved persons who received no vaccine.

"There's a slight trend upwards in all of the United States," he told a newsman. "We have had 42 reported cases so far this year compared to 41 for all of 1957 and the number may increase to about 50 by the end of the year."

But even 50 would be a long cry from the 1,842 cases in 1952. The number dropped dramatically to 796 in 1955, the first year of the anti-polio vaccine. As more persons were vaccinated, the total fell to 231 in 1956 and finally to 41 last year.

"We are really worse off than last year but I confess ignorance as to the cause," said Dr. Gratch. "Actually, there is no statistical significance to the slight increase for this year."

Of the 42 cases reported so far this year, only three of them involved persons who had received the full course of Salk vaccinations. One other case received a single dose.

The county-by-county breakdown of reported cases: Philadelphia 26, Blair 4, Luzerne 3, Warren 2, and 1 each for Westmoreland, Clarion, Indiana, Bedford, Erie, Mercer and Chester.

Dr. Gratch said three of the four Blair County cases were on the suspected list with further clinical examinations still needed to make a final diagnosis.

Boost in Relief Grants Discussed by Shapiro

HARRISBURG (AP) — Harry Shapiro, secretary of public welfare, hopes to boost relief grants by Oct. 1 to bring them more in line with current living costs.

In a weekend statement, Shapiro said "there may be several alternatives before we reach a final decision" on how the boosts will be affected.

"We want to feel the public out before putting the plan into operation."

The present maximum payment is $133 a month for a family of four. One Shapiro-backed proposal would boost that figure to $231 a month.

Mae Swanson is clerk for School Board; custodians are Roy Henry, Emery Peterson, Glen Fitch, and Ben Allen.

FLAG DAY

June 14 was selected as the date for Flag Day because it is the anniversary of the day on which the Continental Congress adopted the flag of the United States in 1777.

About one-tenth of the total U. S. milk supply becomes cheese, while 7 per cent becomes ice cream and one-fourth butter.
